

Jimmy
CARTER
for President

The only choice for us!

Ronald Owens

No matter where we live the Gerald Fords and the Earl Butzs have followed us and tried to keep us down. It's time for us to throw them out once and for all and elect men like Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale.

Connie
Woodruff

Black women are especially aware of the discrimination that still exists in this country. I know Jimmy Carter will lead this country, for a change, just like Martin Luther King and John Kennedy did before their tragic deaths.

Jimmy Carter, the Democratic nominee for President, is interested in us, and he's going to do something about our everyday problems too, for a change.

CARTER & MONDALE

JOBS

In New Jersey, 78,000 Blacks are estimated to be without jobs. In Newark and Camden it's worse; and our energetic young between the ages of 17 and 25 cannot even find work.

Jimmy Carter says, "Everyone who wants a job has a right to a job. The millions of Americans who've been put out of work by Nixon and Ford will be able to find jobs under a Democratic administration."

If elected, Jimmy Carter would:

- * Push private employers to hire the jobless with economic incentives like tax credits and wage subsidies
- * Fund on — the — job training and improve Federal manpower training programs
- * Expand the Comprehensive Education and Training Act (CETA) program of federal aid for jobs on the city and county levels
- * Give direct aid to cities with high unemployment to counter economic cycles and Republican recessions
- * Create meaningful and productive public needs jobs to supplement private employment

HEALTH

Medicine has become more advanced and more expensive. Hospital costs skyrocket as hospital quality drops. For those of us who live in the city, good health care has become almost impossible to get.

"Our present health care system is in need of a drastic change. Despite spending the most money on health care in the world, our nation ranks 13th in infant mortality and efficient and fair health delivery systems."Jimmy Carter

If elected, Jimmy Carter would:

- * Support passage of a national health insurance program which would cover everyone and be mandatory
- * Shift emphasis away from costly hospital visits to preventive medicine and research, and to early detection of the major cripples and killers like Sickle Cell Anemia.
- * Improve upon health delivery systems and professional health care training
- * Improve communication and coordination of modernizing, converting, and relocating physical facilities to provide the best possible medical care at the most reasonable cost to the community

EDUCATION

As usual, the Republicans have watched while our cities' schools have deteriorated, our children kept from learning, (and school taxes have kept going up.)

"America's commitment to education helps everyone gain equality of opportunity. But our government has not provided all citizens with the education necessary to develop their natural potential while meaningfully participating in the decisions of their government!Jimmy Carter

If elected, Jimmy Carter would:

- * Create a separate Department of Education which would bring together all federal programs and provide a stronger voice for education at the federal level
- * Change revenue sharing laws to allow federal funds to be used for education
- * Expand vocational and career education opportunities to help young people get jobs
- * Strengthen colleges and universities in times of financial difficulties and encourage private donations

The Nation needs leaders... Vote Democratic Nov. 2nd

Mayor
Kenneth Gibson

The plight of our cities has been consistently and deliberately ignored for the past eight years. With Jimmy Carter as President our neighborhoods and our cities will be rebuilt and not destroyed. We will be given help and not neglect.

Rev. Howard
Woodson

While a few doors have opened, the reluctance to place Blacks in top government jobs persists even today. With Jimmy Carter, we will be brought in to the highest levels of government.
